The Super Bowl: From World Playoff to Super Bowl Sunday

By Owen Gettell

The Super Bowl is the championship game for the NFL, or National Football League. It is the most-watched sporting event in the U.S, and the second-most watched annual sporting event in the world. The seven most-watched broadcasts in American television history are super bowls. You can tell that the Super Bowl is a big deal, but how did it start?

Two rival leagues - In 1960, there were two rival football leagues: The American Football League (AFL), and the National Football League (NFL). These leagues fought for popularity and fans. On January 14, 1961, the AFL and NFL started planning a "World Playoff" game. It took another six years to make this dream a reality. After that, the AFL merged into the NFL. The name "Super Bowl" originated from an AFL manager seeing his kids play with a toy called a Super Ball. The game was originally called the AFL-NFL Championship Game, but the name "Super Bowl" eventually replaced it. The name grew and grew until the day of the Super Bowl became an unofficial holiday, Super Bowl Sunday, or Super Sunday for short.

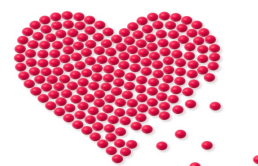

Super Bowl Traditions - Every Super Bowl has been identified by Roman numerals. The exception was the 50th Super Bowl, which was known as Super Bowl 50.

Green Committee

The Green Committee now has a display board in the library with our theme for the spring "You are the Solution to Pollution!" We have added signage to more of our LS waste & recycling containers to make it easy to recycle correctly. Check out the fun artwork on the bins around campus.

Plastics: We learned that the triangle on the bottom of plastic bottles and containers does not mean its recyclable. The number in the triangle tells us what kind of plastic it is. In Berkeley, only #1, #2, and #5 plastics go in the recycle bin, so check the number before choosing your bin. #7 plastics and ones that say "compostable" can go right into the compost.

We watched a video that shows how important recycling is. Plastics and metals can be melted down and turned into such things as new containers, clothing and other useful products. Paper and cardboard can be shredded into a thick soup, dried and pressed into the paper products we use every day.

You Are The Solution to Pollution!

$468.75! That was how much we raised in ONE morning a few weeks ago. 5th Grade served hot chocolate and apple cider and thanks to your love of apple cider, chocolate, and sugar, our fundraiser was a success! The profit from this fundraiser was donated to The Alameda County Food Bank

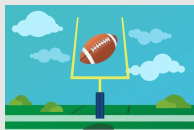

Our next fundraiser will be on Valentines Day. Hopefully, we'll be able to raise even more money and donate to another Important community service.

Guests at the Super Bowl halftime show, which lasts 30 minutes, include famous bands, dancers, singers, musicians, and even astronauts! Until 1977, the coin toss to decide who goes first was performed by a game official. Since then, retired NFL players have gotten the opportunity to do the coin toss. The pregame show has even included supersonic planes flying over the stadium!

Harry Potter Book Review

By Westley and Noah

We all know that J.K Rowling's, Harry Potter series is very popular. But then again, there are seven books. Which begs the question: Which is the best? We took a pole and here are the results:

Book 1 Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone: 10

Book 2 Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets: 6

Book 3 Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban: 7

Book 4 Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire: 17

Book 5 Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix: 6

Book 6 Harry Potter and the Half Blood Prince: 2

Book 7 Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: 5

As you can see from the pole, Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire Book 4 clearly had the most votes. Continued...

Also, people rated this book a 4.9, which is a very good score! In the 4th book Harry Potter finds out that there is going to be a competition that involves 2 other magic schools. This event hasn't been played for over a century. Also, in Harry Potter Book 4, You Know Who (aka Voldemort) starts to get stronger and more powerful making this book one of the first to be a little scary. But not the scariest of them all (that's Book 7). In Book 4, Harry is stuck at the Dursleys! When he finally returns to Hogwarts, he finds out that he has been entered into the competition without his knowledge. The competition for the coveted cup has 4 tasks which are very dangerous to perform and complete

Harry must have enough courage to confront Voldemort and defend himself against the Dark Wizards. We suggest you read Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire. It is a great book in the series. If you do ever read it, we hope you enjoy as much as many of the rest of us!

The Wii

With 101 million units sold, it has sold the 2nd most units in the world!

And it is my favorite console. This console was made to be for experienced and new gamers.

The Wii U

People thought this was an add on to the Wii but it was NOT! With 13.5 million units sold, after just 2 Months people are saying "The Wii U has sold through 13.5 million units, making it officially Nintendo's worst-selling console"!

The Nintendo Switch

It has beaten the record from the Wii! Selling 101 million units+ It is the best-selling console, its power is in the handheld itself, so it can go anywhere

Valentine Jokes and Riddles

What did the octopus say to his Valentine?

I want to hold your hand, hand, hand, hand, hand, hand

What did the elephant say to his Valentine?

" I love you tons!"

Which one of Santa's reindeer can be seen on Valentine's Day?

Cupid.

What did the light bulb say to his Valentine?

I love you watts and watts.

Why did the banana go out with a fig?

Because he couldn't get a date.

WINTER UPDATE ON THE BPC CHICKENS

Gallus (a half-Polish and half-Leghorn chicken), Gus (a Silver-Laced Red Wyandotte chicken), Hamilton (a Black Sex Link chicken), and Schmebb (a black Australop chicken) are doing well. They get let out to run around and stretch legs every day, sometimes twice a day. On Thursdays, they get to be let out of their coop, and kids can play with them because after school it's Chickens & Garden Club! Because it's winter and it's cold, the hens have stopped laying eggs. If you want to meet the chickens, sign -up for Chickens & Garden Club. It's fun and interesting

Lunar New Year Can You Name the Signs of the Zodiac?

Attention BPC students in the Lower School!

The Chinese calendar is based on a cycle of twelve years. Each year is named for a different animal. When the cycle is completed, the names start again in the same order. Can you name the twelve animal signs in order? If you think you can, put your name and that of 1 partner (if you wish) in the designated box at lunch starting on Monday, February 13. On Friday, the 17th, Talia A. and I (Amelie) will draw 5 names to recite the Zodiac at the POU. A prize will be awarded.

Honey Cake

Ingredients

- ¾ cups of butter
- ¾ cups clear honey
- ½ cup soft brown sugar
- 2 eggs slightly beaten
- 1-2 Tbsp milk
- 2 cups self-rising flour

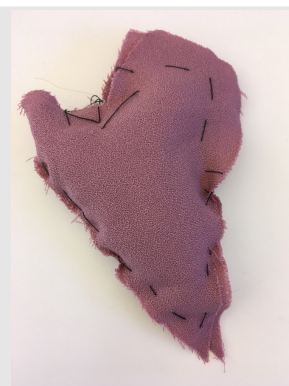

Preheat oven to 350 degrees

1. Grease and line a 9" square pan with baking parchment.
2. Gently heat the butter, honey and sugar, stirring frequently until well blended. Set aside and leave to cool slightly.

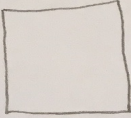

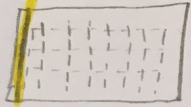

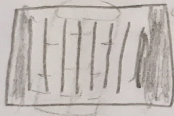

Variation: Add 1 tsp ground cinnamon or grated nutmeg to flour in step 3.

3. Beat the eggs and milk into the cooled mixture. Sift the flour over the top, stir in and beat well until smooth.
4. Tip the mixture into the prepared pan, leveling the surface. Put into hot oven and cook for about 30 minutes or until well risen, golden brown and firm to the touch.
5. Leave the cake to cool in the pan for 20 minutes then turn out, leaving the lining paper in place, onto a wire rack and leave to cool completely.
6. Peel off the paper and cut the cake into 16 squares. By Maestra Aïda

How to make a ... Lunar Lantern!

1.  Get a piece of paper (cardstock works best).
2.  Flip (unless already done). Cut along dotted lines. Cut yellow line and put aside.
3.  Glue together shaded "strips" to make a cylinder.
4.  Staple "yellow" strip as handle.
5.  (Optional) Decorate! Red and yellow are Lunar New Year colors.
